LOCAL LACONICS.

Many gobblers were gobbled here last Thursday.

Reynoldsville is very much in need of a board of trade.

The December term of court commences next Monday. The jingle of sleigh bells was heard on our streets Monday.

Mrs. Scott McClelland fell and injured her back last Saturday.

The Epworth League held a social at D. E. Jones' last Thursday evening.

A. G. Brown, the miller at Prescottville, was dangerously ill several, days last week.

Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart is holding a protracted meeting in the Syphrit church at Paradise.

H. Alex. Stoke's new brick is under roof and will now be finished, though the winds do howl and the storm rage.

Tax collector E. C. Burns calls attention to the fact that all state and county tax must be paid within ten days.

The Jefferson County Medical Association held its regular monthly meeting at Hotel McConnell last Friday

Casper F. Hoffman, the jeweler, has moved his family into the house formerly occupied by Rev. Cressman on Jackson street.

Mrs. A. E. Hetherington will sell her ladies' and children's hats at cost. Now is the time to get a cheap hat. Corner 4th street, Reynoldsville.

The Christian Endeavor Social, of the Presbyterian church, held in Centennial hall Thanksgiving evening, was a very pleasant affair.

The Order United American Mechanics, of Reynoldsville, will attend the morning services in the Baptist church, in a body, on Sunday Dec. 4th. Robert and David Hillis, of Paradise, who had a contract for putting a large amount of hemlock in Trout Run for A. C. Hopkins, completed their job last

Rev. P. J. Slattery held communion services for the Methodists of Sandy Valley Sunday morning and Rev. J. C. McEntire filled the M. E. pulpit at this

Walter Spry, the assessor, is devoting his time this week assessing, and will commence after the first Monday in December registering all who are old enough to vote.

The postoffice now known as Jefferson Line will soon be honored with a new name. When the new railroad to Clearfield is completed the office will be called Brady Junction.

L. Stroup, of West Reynoldsville, who worked in the woods for Bollinger, cut his right foot very badly last week. Mr. Stroup is a member of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and that lodge is looking after

John F. Mulhollan has moved into the house on East Main street formerly occupied by Dr. A. H. Bowser and the doctor has moved into his handsome new brick house, which is not entirely finished yet.

There will be communion services in the Presbyterian church next Sunday at 11.00 A. M. Preparatory services Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Rev. P. J. Slattery will preach Friday evening.

C. F. Hoffman wants all the ladies to call at his jewelry store next Friday and look at his display of holiday goods. On this, his second annual opening, he will present to every lady that calls a

The small boys who have been conspicuous by their absence from Sunday schools all year, will commence to be faithful now for a few Sundays.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church furnished music for the services at that church last Sunday evening. Rev. Derr preached a special sermon for the Endeavor.

W. T. Cox, of Sandy Valley, drove to town in a sleigh Monday morning and when asked, "How is the sleighing?" said, "Its splendid. I drove a mile and a half in the sleigh while Henry Stevenson was driving two miles in a buggy."

Pedestrians have found the sidewalks in Reynoldsville to be in good condition for taking "a tumble" the past two or three days. 'Tis to bad we have no ordinance compelling people to clean their sidewalks, or have we such an ordinance?

There is an old man in this town who limps when he walks that needs to be taught, in no gentle manner, a lesson of civilization. If he has lost all respect for common decency he should be given to understand most emphatically that the citizens of Reynoldsville have not.

All the hotel men of Reynoldsville have received a special invitation from the law to appear before the Judge at Brookville next week and answer to the charges of keeping their bars open June 25th, i892, the time for the special election in this borough for school purposes

Henry M. Iseman, the accommodating American Express agent of this place. who is a great hunter, had a valuable spaniel dog stolen from him about three weeks ago. It was a splendid rabbit and pheasant dog and Mr. Iseman would not have parted with it for almost any price.

Allen Cathers, of Winslow township, made us a call last Thursday. He enjoys the distinction of being the only Democratic Cathers in Jefferson county, and is therefore the only one who can rejoice over the result of the recent presidential election. - Brookville Democrat.

Henry Deible came very nearly having a runaway on Thanksgiving Day. His horse had not been driven for some time and was rather frisky and when Mr. Deible was ready to go the horse started up Grant street at a reckless speed but was controlled before any damage was done.

There are a few people who have been taking this paper for almost seven months who have neglected the important part, that is to pay their subscriptions. To all who know themselves indebted to the THE STAR for reading matter this is a gentle hint that it would be thankfully received

The proposed Reynoldsville and Rathmel electric railway has not been knocked into "innocuous desuetude," but is gradually gaining strength by new subscriptions. Arrangements were made for a two thousand dollar subscription Monday evening. The citizens should not lose sight of the thought that we must have the road for the future benefit of our town. Take stock, gentlemen.

"Old Farmer Hopkins," produced by the Davidson Comedy Co., was greeted with a large audience at the opera house Thanksgiving evening. Mr. Davidson is a jolly comedian and singing was excellent, and his impersonations of the simple hearted old farmer were true to life. The entire company proved themselves much above the average performers. All who attended were delighted.

A man wearing good clothes, fine linen, and who was a "jolly good fellow," so considered by his associates, who has been spending considerable time in Reynoldsville and several other towns near here, has "skipped" for new scenery. An officer with a warrant for his arrest for embezzlement is looking for the gallant chap. Several of the landlords with whom he stopped have, as a memento, an unpaid board bill.

A noted character who lives hardby Reynoldsville, who carries "tangle-foot" with him as he travels to and fro in the country, because he is "noted," was one of the "spectacle man's" victims in Reynoldsville last week. The "noted character" can not read a word and the "fakir" cornered him up, got him to try on a pair of glasses and then gave him a newspaper to read. Our country friend took the paper and could read with the new glasses on-at least pretended he could-and was so well pleased that he bought the spectacles

The Y. P. S. of C. E., of the Presbyterian church, had charge of the services in that church last Sunday evening, it being the second anniversary of the organization of the Endeavor Is was a consecration meeting for the Endeavor workers. R. E. McKee, president, A. J. Postlethwait, Miss Ella McKeon and Rev. H. G. Furbay made short addresses. Two letters, one from Miss Bell Arnold, of Boston, Mass., and the other from John B. Whitehill, of New Athens, Ohio, were read. One of the prominent features of the meeting was antiphonal music, which we explained last week. The church was packed. The people were pleased with the second anniversary services.

Celestial Pyrotechnics.

A number of our citizens looked at the celestial pyrotechnics last Wednesday night and pronounced it one of the grandest heavenly displays they have ever gazed upon. Those who were not looking heavenwards between ten and twelve o'clock on the night above mentioned missed seeing a beautiful

'Tis the Truth. The editor of the Indiania Gazette looks at the situation in the following philosophical manner: "If the editor gives the news he is abused for it; if he fails to give it, his newspaper is pronounced n. g. He is bound to meet so many kickers, anyway; so his best course is to print a fair and impartial newspaper.'

A Genial Host. Frank J. Black, proprietor of Hotel McConnell, sent us a choice piece of venison yesterday, for which we are thankful. The host of Hotel McConnell is a genial young man and runs a house that will compare favorably with many in large cities. An agent remarked to a business man in town several weeks ago that he would travel a hundred miles to stop at Hotel McConnell under its present management. Mr. Black had nine kinds of meats, besides most everything else you could think of that was eatable, served at his tables for Thanksgiving dinner.

Gone to Pittsburg.

Mrs. Margaret R. Gorsline and son, Reynolds, went to Pittsburg yesterday morning where she will keep house for her brother, W. S. Reynolds, Mrs. Gorsline is a daughter of Thomas Reynolds, deceased, and was born in Reynoldsville. She has been a faithful worker in the Woman's Relief Corpse ever since it was organized here, and is always ready to aid an old soldier or his family. Mrs. Gorsline is a great reader and has considerable ability as a writer. THE STAR joins with her many friends in wishing her abundant success in her new home.

She Fainted.

Mrs. W. C. Elliott, wife of the editor of the Volunteer, met with a mishap one day last week that might have proven very serious. She had her little daughter in her arms and a shawl thrown over her shoulders and in attempting to turn the gas down in an open grate fainted and fell. When she returned to consciousness her little baby was lying on the floor beside her making the best possible use of its crying machine. Mrs. Elliott, of course, has no idea how long she remain unconscious. She might just as easily have fallen into the fire and both she and the daughter been cremated.

Formerly of this Place.

Willie Brinton, fourteen-year-old son of Mat. Brinton, formerly an engineer on the Low Grade who lived at Reynoldsville for years, now an engineer on a shifter near Brockwayville, met with an accident on Saturday, Nov. 19th, which may cripple him for life. The boy was riding on the motor of the electric tram road at the Brock mines, and in jumping off while the motor was going at full speed the lad was caught under the wheels and one of his legs badly mangled. The flesh was stripped from the knee down and the bone exposed. A portion of the bruised flesh and muscles were removed, and twentythree stitches were required to close up the wound.

Will Decide by Ballot.

The Democrats of Brockwayville are talking of settling the postoffice question in that borough by ballot when the proper time arrives. The Record says: 'So many aspirants are in the field for the position that discordant strife is inevitable unless the matter can be adjusted among themselves. With a view of averting this feeling a plan has been formulated by which the Democrats of the borough are to decide by ballot their choice for postmaster. The plan is to hold a meeting at which none but registered Democratic voters are to be allowed to participate. A secret ballot will be taken and the candidate having the lowest number of votes will be dropped. The ballot will be continued, dropping the lowest each time until one has a clear majority. All petitions are to be annulled and each candidate will go before the meeting on an equal

The Protection of Game.

Steps are being taken to form a society in Reynoldsville and vicinity to enforce the game laws of our state. It is said that the law is disregarded by many. The game in this vicinity is almost extinct partially because of illegal hunting. The law allows hunting for animals as follows: Elk and deer, Oct. 1st to Dec. 15th; squirrels, Sept. 1st to Jan. 1st; hares and rabbits, Nov. 1st to Jan. 1st. The penalty for hunting out of season is, elk and deer, $50,00; squirrel, $5.00; hare or rabbit, $5.00; and $10.00 for hunting hare or rabbit with ferrets. The law specifies certain times for hunting wild turkeys, ducks, plovers, woodcock, quail, ruffed grouse or pheasant, rail and reed birds; also allows certain seasons for fishing. The above mentioned society should be organized and the law enforced. Twenty-five dollars is the penalty for shooting, hunting or fishing on Sunday.

Buried Friday Afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Jane Ferrier, who died at 3.00 A. M., Wednesday, Nov. 23rd, as mentioned in THE STAR last week, was buried in the Baptist cemetery Friday afternoon. Her funeral sevices were held in the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. E. T. Derr. Mrs. Ferrier was the widow of an old soldier who has been dead a number of years. She never was a robust woman and it was with difficulty that she gained a livelihood for herself and son, Will, who is now about sixteen years old. It was only a few months ago she received over $1,200 pension money and was on the roll for $12.00 per month. Just when she was ready to overcome the difficulty of meeting the every day wants of life, she passed into the haven of rest where wants and sadness are strangers. Willie will make his home with McClelland Ferrier this winter and go

A Mother Gone. Mrs. Elizabeth Beck, wife of Uriah Beck, of Horm Settlement, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benewell Snyder, was born in Elder township, Schuylkill county, Pa., August 13th, 1850, and after an illness of about eight weeks, died on Friday, Nov. 25th, 1892, at the age of 42 years, 3 months and 12 days, and was buried in the Smith cemetery Sunday afternoon, her funeral services being held in the Chestnut Grove Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. Jas. Jelbart, an M. E. minister. Mrs. Beck has been a faithful member of the Evangelical Lutheran church for many years. She was married to Uriah Beck Jan. 1st. 1871, and was the mother of nine children, two of whom preceded her to the Beulah land of eternal rest, The parents, husband, seven children and many friends mourn the loss of an obedient daughter, and affectionate wife, a loving mother and a kind

The Doings of a Modest Man.

A gentleman, blessed with a large heart, who devotes his time tilling a good farm near Panic, called at THE STAR office last Wednesday and left a box in which was a fat turkey. The donor being a modest man forbid us mentioning his name in the paper. Through his kindness we were privileged to partake of turkey for Thanksgiving dinner. The fowl was left in the office for several hours and its "gobble, gobble" was so lamentable that it touched a tender cord in the office "devil's" heart and he would have opened the box and given the turkey one more chance to escape with its life before Thanksgiving, but he feared the thirty-five cents coming to him would be spent to furnish meat in place of turkey. We are very thankful to the kind hearted farmer who lives south of here, and yet he is always North, who furnished us with an excellent turkey

Thanksgiving Services.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Presbyterian church. Rev. P. J. Slattery, paster of the Methodist Episcopal church, preached an excellent sermon, and selected the following verses as his text: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance."-Psa. 33-xii. "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people."-Prov. 14xxxiv. The congregation was about the usual size for Thanksgiving, but not what it should be for a town the size of Reynoldsville where there are so many professed christian people. Many women are deprived of the privilege of attending church that the husband and family may have a big turkey dinner. Thanksgiving services should be attended by a large congregation hereafter. The Presbyterian choir furnished good music for the services.

Both Flimsy.

The DuBois Courier made a weak attempt last Thursday morning to defend the Mitchell Specialty Co., which was managed by a former "tea peddler." by trying to be sarcastic about THE STAR's stage critic. Our morning friend was very careful not to mention the fact that the Big Co. was composed of DuBois talent, but trifled with the truth by saying that the company started out from this place. The company, we are pleased to say, rightly belongs to DuBois. Reynoldsville has no desire to claim such a company. The manager of the DuBois Mitchell Specialty Co., which showed at Rathmel. Sykesville and Big Run, made a statement in the Courier Friday morning and said that THE STAR and DuBois Express both lied, and advised us to attend to our own business, which we were doing or else our readers would never have heard of the "tea peddler's" great company. We were not guilty of accusing the fellow of losing much in the venture, because we did not credit him with having much to lose. A Reynoldsville gentleman advanced $1.50 to the manager on Monday to send a telegraphic money order for $1.20using 30 cents to send the message-to get his company from DuBois to Rathmel that afternoon.

Ladies attend C. F. Hoffman's annual opening of holiday goods next Friday. We don't want you to buy, but look at the goods.

A genteel fellow"worked"the borough authorities last week in peddling without a license, but as soon as he "smelled mouse" he had business elsewhere. He had his overcoat pocket full of spectacles and walked up and down Main street keeping an eagle eye open for victims, generally looking for people from the country, and he would "buttonhole" them and offer eight and ten dollar glasses for one or two dollars, the price varying as the victim seemed willing to buy. The frames were gold, at least so represented by the fakir. People are always ready for bargainsfor the sharper-and this fellow found sale for his spectacles. In the first place, if a person needs glasses at all they want to get their eyes examined and get glasses that will be of some benefit and not ruin their sight entirely. We only get two eyes in this world and tis best not to trifle with the sight thereof with something that is cheap. Better buy from an optician. In the second place, you can buy just as good spectacles at our jewelry stores for about twenty-five cents, minus the gold wash-which would cost five or ten cents—as the aforementioned fakir sold for one and two dollars. Be wary of big bargains offered by smooth-tongued street fakirs or agents. Buy from people who do business here and who will give you the worth of your money. The great bargains offered by strangers who are here one day and gone the next, are invariably one sided, the bargain goes with the stranger. Reynoldsville has not been infested with so many installment agents, fakirs, &c., since the three dollar-a-day ordinance has gone into effect, and it is a good thing for the town and the people therein.

The "Chestnut" Recital.

The Woman's Relief Corps of this place has frequently given entertainments in the Reynolds opera house but the "Chestnut Recital" last Saturday evening was the most successful, financially and for pure unadulterated fun, of any previous one. The opera house was packed and many were unable to get into the building with any comfort. The orchestra was composed of violinists who made music for country "ho downs" many years ago. The young people who were on the program had selections that were real old, but they did so nicely that the audience was well pleased, and some of the older ones who were put on merely as a huge joke, surprised the people by surpassing what was expected of them. Below we give the names of all who assisted in making the entertainment a success: Cap. T. C. Reynolds, Charlie and Edith Coax, Miss Lillian McCreight, Miss May Iseman, Miss Ruth Reynolds, Miss Weston, Goldie and Frankie King, Miss Minnie Ewing, David Reynolds, Miss Suc Reynolds, E. Will Green, Mrs. Margaret R. Gorsline, Walter and Willie Reynolds, Mrs. Dr. S. Reynolds. All are deserving of credit for the manner in which they performed their parts. We have talent in Reynoldsville if put into use that would give the people of this place many good cheap entertainment.

His Life Crushed Out. [Punxsutawney Spirit.] On Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock as switch engine No. 67 was making a trip to Adrian it ran over the body of a man lying on the track. The engine was stopped and the engineer and fireman walked back to investigate. few rods in the rear of the waiting engine they found the lifeless body of a man, afterwards indentified as John Yennowski, of Adrian, lying beside the track. The right leg was severed above the knee and there was a frightful hole in the skull from which the brains were oozing. The probability is that the victim had been drinking, and becoming stupified from the effects, laid down to take a sleep. The friends of the dead man refuse to entertain this view of the matter and are firmly convinced that he was murdered and that his body was placed on the track for the purpose of concealing the facts.

Chicken Thieves.

We received the following item from Mrs. George Rhoads yesterday afternoon: "Chicken thioves have visited my coop twice. I wonder if they were not very thankful that old Mrs. Rhoads lives on the hill yet and raises such nice game chickens for their Thanksgiving dinner. Such thieves, I think, would rob and murder who would steal a widow woman's chickens, especially her game chickens when common ones, much larger, that had the cholera, could have been found a few houses away that would not have been missed as mine were." The widow is a little cross about it, and we do not blame her in the least, for a man who would rob a widow's coop is a fowl thief and especially contemptible.

To taxpayers of Winslow township. I will be at 'Squire E. T. McGaw's office, Reynoldsville, Pa., each Saturday of December, 1892, to receive taxes. According to requirements of law all township tax not paid will have five per cent. added after January 1st, 1893. All state and county tax must be paid before that date. JOHN WAITE, Collector.
